SEVENTEEN HUNDRED HERE SHARE IN PAYMENT

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
CLEVELAND, June 15.—The selection of Colonel Frank Knox naturally has a strong appeal to me, as he was with my father in the Rough Riders and followed him in the Progressive party in 1912.
In his campaign for the presidential nomination, Colonel Knox concentrated upon the common enemy, never indulging, as did some of the other contestants, in angry criticism of his fellow aspirants. He has left no wounds that need healing. He is a hard hitter, yet without a trace of recrimination in his makeup.
Colonel Knox took his defeat for first place like the thorough-going sportsman that he is, and was convincingly sincere when he said in his speech seconding Governor Landon's nomination that he would go on fighting, no matter what his personal political fate might be.
He was not coy about the vice presidency. Senator Vandenberg was off-again-on-again until his coyness was called, but he also will be found in the forefront of the campaign.

The little frame house in West Middlesex, Pa., famous as the birthplace of Alfred Mossman Landon, Republican nominee for president, is also the birthplace of a prominent Rich. Rich's father, Rev. Albert Russell Rich, was pastor of the West Middlesex M. E. church, prior to the pastorate of Rev. William Herdman Mossman, Landon's grandfather, and it was during this time that Dr. Rich was born there, in 1884. Rev. Rich was afterwards pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, this city.

The overland delivery of autos continues at a record pace. There was no let-up on Sunday, many new cars, trucks, etc., being transported through this city towards the east.

A nice piece of work that has been completed by the W. P. A. is noted on the highway leading down the hill eastward from Mt. Jackson.

The large number of autos parked around Lawrence County country churches, indicates that attendance at services on Sunday was good.

Work being done along Atlantic Ave. by the W. P. A. should not only be an improvement for the highway but should provide a safety service also. The stonework being done on the outside of the concrete provides

Deliver Bonus Bonds To 1,700 Veterans Here

Postmen Start Delivery To Local World War Veterans This Morning

WILL COMPLETE DELIVERY TODAY

Approximately Million And Half Dollars To Be Distributed In County

New Castle district World War veterans greeted city and rural postmen at their doorsteps today as the carriers, their letter sacks filled with bonus bond mail, brought them registered letters containing the government's "pay" for their wartime service.

Carriers delivered 1,100 registered letters on this morning's trip through New Castle and over the rural routes served out of here. A shipment of 600 more, expected to reach the city from the Cleveland branch of the Federal Reserve Bank just in time for this afternoon's mail, will augment the first distribution.

Veterans themselves were signing for the bonus letters at their homes, a stipulation the post office department is enforcing rigidly.

Job Well Under Way

Postmaster Richard A. Steen reported "the bonus job well under way." He said that with few exceptions all the bonus letters would be delivered to veterans in the city and out on the rural routes today. "If you don't get your bonus today," the postmaster made clear to the exservicemen, "don't feel that you've been missed. There may be last-minute developments that will delay the delivery of some."

Errors in bookkeeping, Mr. Steen said, will likely delay some. Telegrams from Washington and other governmental offices throughout the country have already brought "stop payment" orders in several cases where bookkeeping mistakes have been found. Veterans affected are being notified immediately when the orders come.

For the New Castle office today's mail was expected to top most delivery records of the past. For the short delivery period the carrier force is being heavily taxed and the clerical force will be burdened as the certification starts.

Vandals Spoil Croton Avenue Parkway Trees

City Police Seeking Identity Of Vandals Who Were Active Over Week End

City police are seeking to determine identity of vandals who damaged and practically ruined three fine little trees on the public park o. Croton avenue along the Neshaunock creek.

Discovery was made that over the week end three elm trees had been practically ruined. The largest that was damaged was a tree eight years old, and worth probably $500 in money value. The limbs were torn asunder and the tree rendered practically a wreck. Limbs were torn from two other trees.

The vandalism was not the work of boys, but of grown-ups it is certain, as it would have required adult strength to despoil the trees, as was done.

Funeral Plans For Chesterton

LONDON, June 15.—Last rites of the Catholic church to which he was converted fourteen years ago, were prepared today for Gilbert K. Chesterton, brilliant author, essayist and master of the paradox, who died of heart failure yesterday after a short illness.

A requiem mass will be said at St. Theresa's church tomorrow. The 62-year old writer's wife and secretary knelt in prayer at his bedside when he died. Chesterton had just returned from France, where he had made a pilgrimage to the Lourdes shrine.

Conferences In Topeka Will Plan Campaign

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kas., June 15.—The Republican high command moved toward Topeka today to begin a series of conferences with Governor Alfred M. Landon, the Presidential nominee, that are expected to occupy most of the week.

John D. M. Hamilton, Governor Landon's pre-convention organizer, and the newly elected chairman of the Republican national committee, was scheduled to arrive here at 9:30 a. m. from Cleveland. He was to confer immediately with the governor.

To Start Campaigns
Earl Warren, California's national committeeman, was expected later today. The main vanguard, headed by the Vice-Presidential nominee, Col. Frank Knox, and including the G. P. P. sub-committee members and other party leaders, will follow tomorrow. Caucuses to be begun then are expected to result in a complete campaign being mapped.

The governor's aides here are urging that he open his campaign early in the East. New York City has been proposed for the opening speech, with addresses in Boston, Philadelphia and other major eastern cities to be included on the swing along the Atlantic seaboard.

Governor Landon's pre-convention activities included no appearances in the East. Just where the opening gun will be fired, however, may be announced before the week is out.

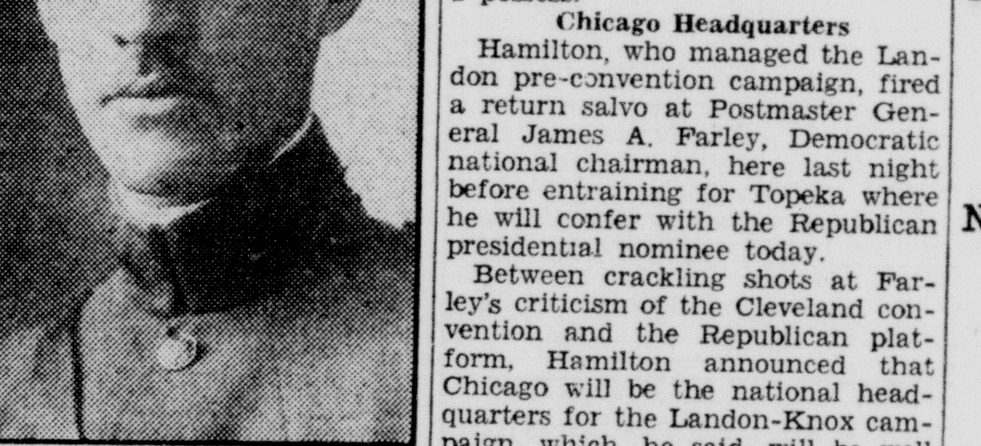

Hamilton, a Topeka attorney, was expected to be met at the train today by hundreds of Topekanes, who have organized a celebration in his honor.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Al Smith will not go to the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia next week unless other prominent anti-Roosevelt Democrats indicate they will be there to support him, International News Service was informed on the best of authority today.

The former governor has decided he will not go to Philadelphia as a "lone wolf."

Smith has come to the conclusion that the Jim Farley political machine is "too well-oiled" for him to buck it alone. And no one understands political workings better than Smith.

He has been advised by Philadelphia friends to join the lone Philadelphia New Deal organizers are preparing to give him the "razzberry" in the event he appears on the convention floor as an opponent to the policies of President Roosevelt.

See Compromise On Relief Fund In Legislature

Believe Special Session Agreement On Sum Needed Will Be Reached

EARLE'S ESTIMATE TO BE REDUCED

Sum May Be Cut To Approximately $55,000,000 Reports Indicate

By ARTHUR H. WAKELEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 15.—Legislative leaders today looked toward a possible compromise on Pennsylvania's unemployment relief problem as the basis for an early adjournment of the current session.

Assembling here for the seventh week of the emergency session, members of the legislature were heartened by Gov. George H. Earle's success in having the works progress administration eligibility deadline extended in order to cut down the state's direct relief rolls.

See Relief Reduction
As a result of that move, it was expected the governor's challenge to the Republican majority in the state senate to advance relief appropriation bills will be made easier for the GOP organization by an anticipated reduction in the administration's demands for relief expenses.

It was reported the administration's estimate of relief needs through next January might be shaved from its original figure of $70,991,000 to approximately $55,000,000. On this basis, it was regarded as likely that some agreement between Democrats and Republicans might be reached. (Continued On Page Two)

Deadlock On New Tax Bill

Hopes Of Congress Adjournment This Week Are Dashed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—A temporary deadlock over the $830,000,000 tax bill, differences over relief and pressure for other legislation today virtually dashed hope of congressional adjournment this week.

The battle between senate and house conferees over the tax bill overshadowed all other legislative quarrels.

With the return of President Roosevelt house tax leaders, fighting for his revolutionary plan of basing taxes on undistributed earnings of corporations, planned to appeal to him for aid.

So bitter were the differences between many house and senate members that it was doubtful whether even White House pressure could bring the tax conference to a speedy conclusion.

A filibuster was threatened in the senate if the Roosevelt plan, which was thrown overboard by the senate, is adopted by the conferees.

The conference was resumed today with administration forces ready to move for a speedy showdown.

Two Billions Being Paid To War Veterans

Several Million Veterans Of World War Receiving Bonus Today

GREATEST "PAY-OFF" IN WORLD HISTORY

Bonds Being Delivered Simultaneously In Every State In Union

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 15.—As music and speeches filled the air with carnival spirit, Uncle Sam reached for a $2,000,000,000 bankroll today to reward the legions of fighting men who rallied to the colors in '17 and '18.

With the stroke of midnight heralding "soldiers bonus" day, the treasury placed into the mails more than 2,000,000 envelopes, containing crisp, new bonds and checks marked for immediate delivery to eagerly-awaiting World War veterans.

Delivery Nation-Wide
Oiled with weeks of preparation, the post office distributing machine at once shifted into high gear to start the huge flow of mail with minimum delay. From 45,000 post offices throughout the United States and its possessions, a large force of workers bore their burden to the doors of veterans by all possible means of transportation, ranging from speedy motor trucks in urban centers to dog-teams in the remote Alaskan wastes.

Operating day and night, the bureau of engraving and printing has completed the manufacture of 37,000,000 bonds and 6,000,000 checks that will be given to veterans who redeem their bonds. This is the quantity needed for the 3,517,600 ex-servicemen eligible to participate in the greatest "pay-off" in history.

Envelopes already in the mails contain 28,000,000 bonds in denominations of $50 and checks for odd amounts. The remainder will be mailed as quickly as the veterans administration, the treasury and the division of loans and currency catches up with the flood of applications from veterans.

Form Militant Organization To Push Campaign

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—A militant organization, to be known as the Republican Men of Pennsylvania, has been formed to wage an active campaign in this state for the election of Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, and Col. Frank Knox, of Chicago, as president and vice president on the New Castle-New Bedford road near the airport.

They were on their way to visit friends near Kittanning. In the car with them was John Seever, father of the defendant, in this case and Walter Rodgers, aged 10, a son of Catherine Rodgers.

Seever is alleged to have been drinking and had been doing more or less quarreling with his wife from the time they left Cleveland. Near Beechwood Inn, east of New Bedford, it is claimed that Seever had struck his wife over the head with the butt of a revolver. They all go out at Beechwood.

Started Shooting
Soon after they entered the car again and proceeded toward New Castle. Seever still arguing with his wife. Near the airport he suddenly turned around and began shooting. The car ran into the ditch. Seever emptied his revolver, killing his wife and Mrs. Rodgers. Mrs. Rodgers was hit either three or four times.

McNAIR ALTERS HIS STAND

Restore Order At Pittsburgh

Magisterial Courts Again Begin To Function And Police Active

DUNN RECALLED FROM FURLOUGH

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—Partial surrender by Mayor William N. McNair today brought order out of the chaos in which the police department and the magistrate courts found themselves over the week-end.

Himself free on a $5,000 bond awaiting grand jury action on a charge of malfeasance for allegedly precipitating the confused situation, the mayor recalled Thomas A. Dunn, public safety director, from "furlough." Dunn, who heads the police, had refused to accept the "furlough" order and as a result he and McNair kept the wires busy issuing conflicting orders which put the bluecoats and their superior in a state of dizzy turmoil.

Courts Function Again
The magisterial courts began to function again when at the order of Presiding Judge Ralph H. Smith of the criminal courts, who ordered the mayor's arrest, Sheriff Frank I. Gollmar dispatched his deputies to stand guard by the magistrates. McNair, who is the city's chief magistrate, ordered his five magisterial appointees to sit on their benches and do nothing else because of his anger over the current grand jury probe of the magistrates courts and the police.

As a result, prisoners could not get into jail and those ready for release were unable to get out. The mayor charged the magistrates courts couldn't function because the grand jury had impounded the records. Dunn refused to state how long Dunn would be retained or whether he was returned from furlough merely to be fired for good.

licans, asserting the administration's original estimate of relief needs was too high, have proposed estimates totaling approximately $50,000,000.

May Submit Lower Estimate
Reports the administration was planning to submit a lower estimate of relief needs came on the heels of the WPA eligibility extension for Pennsylvania. The federal WPA rules provided no jobs were to be given to unemployed who were on the relief rolls on last January 15. That deadline has been extended to June 15 for the commonwealth.

According to relief officials, this will result in a drop of about 100,000 persons from the state's direct relief rolls. Coming after six consecutive weeks of declining relief rolls because of the pickup in private employment, the administration was expected to cut its estimate of relief needs by about $10,000,000.

Unemployment relief will provide the principal legislative worry after this week, when the controversial social security laws are expected to be passed. Democratic leaders are bringing every pressure to bear in advancing security bills before the general assembly in advance of the June 20 deadline for conforming with federal security laws.

The pace for the remainder of the session is expected to be set tonight when both branches of the legislature will convene in a joint meeting to hear Governor Earle's plea for speedy action of the administration program. That plea will come on the final day for introduction of bills, other than revenue measures, in the house, and legislative leaders anticipate it will sound the note for a compromise and early adjournment.

CORNER OF ARMOY LAID ON SATURDAY

impressive. General Stackpole set the pace for the ceremony with his short, incisive address. In it he reminded his hearers that the history of the troop here had been a checked one but that with the building of the armory the organization would now be on solid ground.

He reviewed the work of the troop on the Mexican border, in the World war. Concerning the flood relief work done at Sharsburg, General Stackpole was extravagant in his praise of Troop F. "It was one of the finest peace time achievements ever chalked up to the credit of the National Guard," said he. The general also credited the civilian sponsor committee with being the organization that had saved the troop for New Castle and which had brought it to the present high degree of perfection.

Gives Troop History.
L. B. Round, chairman of the local sponsor committee, reviewed the history of the troop and on behalf of the sponsor committee promised a continuation of the fine cooperation shown between civilians and the troop.

A number of documents were then placed in the copper box which is in the cornerstone. Mr. Round placed a copy of the troop plan in the box. Freddie Rentz, grandson of Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, placed a copy of Saturday's News in the box. Captain George F. Mitchell, commander of the troop, placed a copy of the troop roster in the box. Major W. Fulton Jackson placed a list of the civilian sponsors and a list of the reserve officers in James E. Moorhead, commander of the American Legion, placed one of the Legion emblems in the box. In addition there was a list of the Daughters of 1812 furnished by Mrs. A. T. Eckles. Fred L. Rentz placed a shiny new silver dollar in the box. The stone was then swung into place. General Stackpole plumed it and it was declared true.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Koonce and the band concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Will Be Fine Structure.

The new armory will be a handsome building when it is finished. Constructed of white silica stone it will stand on an eminence in Cascade park where it can be seen. It is made possible through the co-operation of the county and city authorities, the military forces of the state and the sponsors of the troop in New Castle.

General Stackpole was met at the airport by Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, and piloted by two state highway patrolmen was transported to the armory site. Immediately after the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. Rentz took him back to the airport and he left by plane for Harrisburg, piloted by Lt. Bill Morris.

what should serve as a sidewalk for the many pedestrians who travel along this highway.

Many auto drivers are becoming careless about observing the safety stop before entering main highways in the city, Pa. New observes. Even if no sign is erected at a street intersection, common sense would direct that a stop be made before entering a main street from any side street.

Oiling operations are being started this week by the state highway department, the current detour bulletin issued for the period ending June 19 shows. Oiling operations are being carried out near Emlenton, between Oil City and Tionesta, and west of Titusville, the nearest points to this community.

TWO BILLIONS BEING PAID TO WAR VETERANS
ending to the bitter struggle for cash payments of soldiers' adjusted service certificates. Hundreds of communities staged rousing ceremonies that obliterated memories of the 17-year fight which spelled political disaster to many and climaxed in bloodshed during the historic march on Washington in 1932.

With veterans receiving an average of $550 in bonds, representing a bonus of $125 a day for foreign service and $1 a day for domestic war duty, industry and business in every section looked for weeks of boom-time spending.

Although veterans' organizations and government officials urged recipients to save as much as possible of their bonus for the future, it is expected more than $1,000,000,000 will flow into trade channels immediately. A last-minute radio message by Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines warned the former service men against crooks and sharpers who hope to reap a golden harvest from the gullible. He urged veterans to investigate thoroughly any persons "who have ingenious schemes" to assist in spending the money.

Since the bonds are being dispatched as registered mail, they can only be delivered to the veterans personally and upon adequate identification. Veterans have been urged to remain at home pending arrival of the bonds, although many cities will institute night-delivery, beginning tonight.

Harrisburg, June 15.—The postman turned paymaster for almost 260,000 Pennsylvania World war veterans today as Uncle Sam started delivery of more than $155,000,000 in soldier bonus bonds throughout the Keystone state.

In the state's largest cities, an army of letter carriers was to start delivery of the veteran compensation bonds this evening. In other centers, including Harrisburg, the registered letters were to go out in regular daylight deliveries, with postal forces working overtime to clean up the special task.

Philadelphia led all other counties with a "payroll" of $31,517,774, of which $24,600,000 in bonds represented the Quaker city metropolitan area. Allegheny, where Pittsburgh veterans were to regenerate $22,202,593, readied for delivery.

Luzerne county, where Wilkes-Barre topped the list of community payments, was to get $7,190,735 today. Delaware, Fayette and Erie counties were among the other large recipients.

DELIVER BONUS BONDS TO 1,700 VETERANS HERE

mate the total value of the letters delivered today. They did know, however, that over a million and a half dollars in all will go to veterans throughout the county.

Certification Headquarters
While the letters were on their way to the veterans' homes, the former soldiers, happy because their 16-year campaign for the bonus payment is over, made ready to make immediate request for payment at the temporary certification headquarters which will be opened at the Troop F armory on West Washington street at 5 this afternoon.

A corps of competent clerks was primed for their "job of jobs" today. At 5 p. m. when the certification starts, bonus recipients will doubtless be waiting to take the first step to transfer their bonds into cash.

Immediate effect was expected to be felt in business channels here, although a percentage of the veterans the bonds which will begin earning simple interest at the rate of three per cent per annum after June 15, 1937.

The post office here was besieged today by groups of veterans who had hoped to receive theirs early.

All the bonds were delivered to the veterans' homes and none was turned over unless the veteran himself was there to sign.

The bonus shipment delivered this morning arrived from Cleveland over Sunday. Those expected to go out this afternoon are due from the Ohio city early this afternoon.

MAN VICTIM OF HEAD-ON CRASH EARLY SUNDAY
home. Hyde, whose car showed a mileage of only 175 miles, was enroute towards New Castle.

Hyde was approaching the brow of the hill, where the road dips at the park, when the car which McConey is said to have been driving roared up over the hill and struck Hyde's car head-on, hurling it to the north side of the road. The Phillips car showed clear marks for a distance of 85 feet to the point of collision, after which it turned sideways and skidded and rolled a distance of 185 feet before coming to a stop at the side of the road, lying on its side. The two cars were virtually demolished.

Passing motorists removed Miss McConey to the hospital and notified the state highway patrol, who in turn summoned Coroner Potter. When the officers arrived at the scene, they found Hyde's body slumped over the steering wheel. He had sustained a broken neck and other injuries.

Leave Accident Scene.
In addition to McConey and his sister, Ralph Smith of R. F. D. No. 1 and LeRoy Trimble of R. F. D. No. 7 had been occupants of the Phillips car. Only Trimble was found at the scene of the accident.

He told Coroner Potter that they had spent the evening at a roadhouse on route 422 and that Phillips, the owner of the car in which they were riding, had elected to drive Smith's car, and that McConey took Phillips' car.

A search was made for the other occupants of the Phillips machine and Smith was finally located by Coroner Potter and Patrolman Holmes about 6 a. m.

The body of Hyde was removed to Rice's undertaking rooms and later Sunday was taken to his former home at Warren, O., awaiting burial. He had been a resident of New Castle since last November, having been employed as a salesman by the Pennsylvania Power company. He leaves a wife and step-son, it is stated.

Hyde's wife could not be located Sunday. She had left on a motor trip with relatives, it was stated.

Children's Day Is Observed In Many Churches
Hundreds of little boys and girls shined and brushed and dressed in their best Sunday outfits, appeared in recitation and song in the New Castle churches yesterday.

It was the annual Children's Day observance and scores of churches joined in the celebration. The entire worship programs were turned over to the Sunday schools and, while admiring parents and friends looked on, the beginners, primary and junior departments performed. Mother had her day several weeks ago, father is to have his next Sunday, but yesterday belonged entirely to the children.

company and is known to a lot of people.

Steam shovels are at work on both sides of the Mahoning river. Already rough outline can be seen of the course the viaduct will follow. A temporary road has been built from Edenburg to a point where a ramp will run off the viaduct for Edenburg traffic. Excavation for the foundations is under way at either end of the viaduct site.

When it is finished the viaduct will really be seven bridges and a roadway. It shoots off at an angle at the top of the hill approaching the old covered bridge and runs across fields and the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"If we have ordinary luck with weather and other conditions we ought to have the job done by December," said Mr. Mullet. But in the meantime, the laundry bills in Edenburg will be heavy.

FIREMEN ANSWER SEVERAL ALARMS
City firemen answered several alarms over the week-end, no damage of any consequence resulting.

Saturday afternoon at 2:10, they were called to the home of John C. Christine, of 341 Shaw street, where Mr. Christine was burning the paint off his house with a blow torch, setting fire to the weather boarding. He had extinguished the blaze with a garden hose by the time firemen arrived at the scene.

At 8:45 Saturday evening, they were summoned to 331 South Mill street, where a short circuit had set fire to the car of Eddie Bartell, of Ellwood City. Damage of around $5 resulted.

At 5 o'clock Sunday morning, firemen were summoned to 805 Moravia street, when smoke coming from the shanty of the B. and O. watchman appeared to be coming from an adjoining building.

Alfalfa Bill Makes Visit To London
(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., June 15.—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1932, endorsed a major portion of the G. O. P. platform today during a visit with Governor Alfred M. Landon.

Murray refused to say, however, whether he would support the Republican ticket this year. Asked point blank whether he would throw his backing to Gov. Landon, whom he praised and congratulated following the Cleveland convention, Murray declared:

"I am not interested just now in partisan politics. I am interested in principles."

Enroute to Kansas City on a business trip, the former Oklahoma governor stopped off here on the eve of a meeting of the Republican high command to map the 1936 campaign.

SEEVERS FACES JURY TRIAL FOR WOMAN'S MURDER
commission was appointed and reported that he was sane. He then went to trial for the murder of his wife. The jury found a verdict of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy, which meant a life imprisonment sentence. He was taken to the penitentiary on April 3, 1930, where he has since been.

Seever's claims to be 45 years old, but looks older. He is a large, powerfully built man. His hair is tinged with gray. His face is smooth shaven. This morning he was brought from the county jail by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, he wore a dark suit without vest, white shirt and blue tie.

Selecting Jury
Work of selecting the jury started immediately. None of the panel called for this week was excused. As the jurors were called, singly they were sworn sworn by Prothonotary John M. Edgar, on their voir-dire. Each juror was examined as to his or her knowledge of the case. District Attorney J. Elder Bryan questioned them for the common-law jury for the defense. Seever took a deep interest in the procedure, sizing up the jurors and giving his attorney his opinion of them.

Many of the jurors called expressed themselves as opposed to capital punishment. When they gave their views Judge W. Walter Braham took them in hand in an effort to find out whether or not their views were the result of deep seated convictions with regard to capital punishment, or whether they simply did not like the idea of sitting on a jury and bringing in a verdict where the penalty might be death.

Judge Braham explained his ideas regarding conscientious scruples by referring to Quakers, whose ideas against capital punishment are the result of deep religious convictions. The law, he said, does not contemplate excusing a man from serving on a jury simply because it is an unpleasant duty. Some of those so questioned admitted that their convictions were not very deep, but they did not see how they could condemn a man to the chair. In such cases the jurors were challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth. Where there appear to be real conscientious convictions, the challenges were for cause.

Some persons thought that Seever would enter a plea instead of standing trial. He maintained to his attorney that he had no recollection at all of what happened on Wednesday night when a demonstration of sewing and recreational projects will be held in the Broadhead Hotel. The dinner starts at 6 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, and the speaking will consist of two short addresses by state officials.

LAWRENCE CHAPTER PICNIC AT "EASTOVER"

A perfect June day added charm to the annual picnic event of the Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Saturday, at "Eastover" the beautiful home of Mrs. E. B. Russell, near New Wilmington.

Some 60 guests, among whom were members of Neshannock chapter of New Wilmington, were present. At one o'clock, the group gathered at the summer pavilion atop the hill on the Russell estate, for an elegant catered menu. After being served buffet fashion, from the big table which centers the pavilion, the group seated themselves about as they chose, enjoying the fine view of the hills in that vicinity, as well as a delicious menu.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. D. W. Ritchie, Miss Belle Offutt, Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, Miss Anna Stevenson, Miss Cordelia Roberts, Miss Katherine Fouke, Miss Margaret Smith.

There was no special program arranged for the afternoon, but the guests had the pleasure of listening to a reading of the D. A. R. essay by Anna Mae Holmes, a member of the June 1936 graduating class of the high school, who won the award.

Her subject was "Colonial Ports in Western Pennsylvania" about which many interesting facts were related.

Dorothy E. Ward, also a member of this month's graduating class at high school, was present and was awarded the D. A. R. medal for the good citizenship pilgrimage contest. The presentation was made by the regent, Mrs. Harold R. McCulloch, who presided. Among other guests in attendance were Mrs. Samuel W. Perry, Jr., of Philadelphia, who is spending the summer in New Castle, and Mrs. Joseph Blanning, of Pittsburgh, a visitor at the Blanning home on Highland avenue.

Lawrence chapter will enjoy another summer activity on July 18, when the members will journey to Economy, the early settlement of the Econimies, near Zelienople for a tour of the grounds and buildings.

The next regular meeting of the chapter will take place on September 17, when Lawrence chapter will entertain Mrs. Harper D. Shepard, state regent, and other state officers at a regional meeting, which will either be held at the Castleton or the Field Club.

NATIONWIDE ACCLAIM

IN THE few days that have elapsed since the nomination of Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, for the presidency by the Republican party, there has been an amazing nation-wide upsurge of Landon sentiment such as has never before been set in motion by a national political convention.

From press and rostrum and men in all walks of life comes enthusiastic approval of the ticket and platform that were named and drafted by the Cleveland convention, not in a spirit of partisanship, but in the sober realization on the part of the delegates that upon the success of their efforts largely depends the future of this nation.

Governor Landon is a man of the solid type, the type that made this nation great, the kind of man you can tie to. He has his feet on the ground and he will keep them there come what may. Governor Landon was not born to riches nor did he fall through the years on a matriarchal estate. What he has and is, he earned and became by his own efforts and through the exercise of brawn and brain.

Governor Landon's record in balancing the Kansas budget first brought him to national acclaim. Previously his victories in gubernatorial campaigns in 1932 and 1934, when it was the fashion to vote for Santa Claus, had caused surprise, particularly in the camp of the New Deal.

So it was that a groundswell of Landon-for-President sentiment set in that was not confined to the Republican party but reached out to include men of all political beliefs. There were other candidates for the Republican nomination, candidates ably fitted for the high office, but the simple honesty of a man who believed in paying the state's bills while he was governor, more than any other one thing, made Governor Landon the logical choice.

His outspoken views on national issues make Colonel Frank Knox a logical choice for vice president. Few men in private life today have taken so courageous a stand on the issues raised by the present administration at Washington. Newspaper editor, soldier, former Bull Moose, Colonel Knox will bring votes to the ticket in his own right.

Landon and Knox are a tremendous threat to the New Deal, and the administration.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS AND CHARACTER

There is a place for athletics in school and college programs, though it may not be the one most frequently claimed. Character-development has always been considered one of the chief virtues of athletic competition.

Now a college professor, after a year's study of the situation in four colleges, reports that the character-building quality has been over-emphasized.

Instructors are much more significant factors in influencing the attitudes of students than are the subjects they teach. That holds for any academic subject quite as much as for athletics. The student who is honest and square in his dealings with others, carries that attitude into all his activities, including athletics. The one who is mean, selfish, or a cheat in any relationship doesn't suddenly become a good sport when he plays tennis or football. Playing the game helps, but could not do the job alone.

Character-building cannot be accomplished in one branch of living alone. It begins with parents' training of children and goes on through every phase of life. Participation in athletics is more likely to reveal character than to develop it.

PER CAPITA DEBT PEAK

Each operation of government financing has come to mean the establishment of new records for amount of issue and net increase in public debt. That has been made inevitable by the prodigious spending by Washington, so far in excess of income. Such a situation, compelling in addition the imposition of new levies, in spite of expanding revenues from present tax sources, is not to be contemplated with equanimity.

The $2,000,000,000 offering announced for June exceeds by $191,000,000 that of last March, up to then the highest, excluding the World War period. Of the issue $1,050,754,000 will represent refinancing, so that the new money sought to meet the bonus payments and treasury deficit requirements approximates $1,000,000,000. In other words, that sum is added to the government debt, which will then have risen to $32,600,000,000, or $6,000,000,000 more than the postwar peak.

A more impressive comparison may be had by consideration of the debt on a per capita basis. It was in 1919 that the postwar obligations reached their maximum. They represented a per capita charge of $246.69. With the new financing contemplated for next month this figure will have risen to $255.60 for every man, woman and child, taking the population as 127,521,000, the Census Bureau's estimate for 1935. Since 1930 that is an increase of nearly 100 per cent in the per capita debt figure.

MAKING ANOTHER NEW RUSSIA

If democracy can move towards dictatorship, so dictatorship can move towards democracy. Thus Germany and Italy, under parliamentary forms, have become more and more the will of a single man. Russia, where Communism has meant the tyranny of the state is swinging in the direction of a popular government. The new constitution, proposed by Stalin and unanimously adopted by the Soviet leaders, practically puts an end to the absolute power of the proletariat and its self-chosen representative.

The changes proposed are to a great degree revolutionary. There is to be a house of representatives, elected by direct and secret ballot on the basis of one to each 250,000 of the population. There is to be another body, roughly corresponding to our senate, consisting of delegates from the federated republics and the autonomous republics. The president of the Soviet Union will be elected jointly by both houses. Judges will be elected by popular vote, and they and the police authorities will be responsible to an attorney general elected by congress.

Of course the working of the new constitution will depend on many factors. It would perhaps be too much to expect a pure democracy. None the less, the change from the present system is radical. It fore-shadows the possibility of another great democratic country in Europe as a counterpoise to the growth of Fascism.

Senator Borah Helped.

We Have Weak Links.

Jesse Jones' Fast Dive.

Niagara Eclipsed.

by ARTHUR BRISBANE

SENATOR BORAH, one of the most powerful and admirable men in American public life, says he is pleased with the Republican platform "planks to which I have given the most consideration. I am quite in harmony with them, particularly the foreign policy and monopoly planks, and the omission of any pledge to return to the gold standard."

Senator Borah, who does not want Uncle Sam to hitch his wagon to a gold star, is undoubtedly responsible, largely, for the anti-World Court plank. He is an American who thinks country can manage its own affairs.

IF CIVILIZATION, like a steel chain is "no stronger than its weakest link," then our civilization is not very strong. For instance, a few headline quotations:

"Jeweler slain in $50,000 hold-up. Shot down at door of father's firm surprises gunmen at work."

"Three police indicted in torture case. Lieutenant and two detectives charged with cruelty to get confession. Victim's wrists burned."

"Gunmen, driving sedan rapidly, shoot a 7-year-old boy in the leg, and shoot a man through the body. A case of mistaken identity."

Newspapers of this country on the same day could select a hundred such cases. Others much worse, and include among a case in New York, with detectives accusing each other, and a public official of letting murderers go because they were able to pay enough money.

MR. JESSE JONES, head of R. F. C. is what a man from Texas should be, tall, wide, hearty and strong; not easily frightened. Dashing toward the earth at two hundred and seventy miles an hour in a blazing airplane, with the odds at least 100 to 1 in favor of death, he remained calm, and when the plane struck the ground, with terrific force, Mr. Jones proceeded to help the badly burned pilots out of their blazing compartment.

The Dallas Exposition ought to give a special "badge of escape" banquet to Mr. Jones.

It was a genuine pleasure for Mr. Jones to help the pilots, for only their courage, he says, saved him and the other passengers from being burned alive.

DIFFERENT THINGS interest different human beings. Hundreds will stop to gaze through a shop window at a lop-eared rabbit, or piebald guinea pig, with hair turned the wrong way, that would not take the trouble to look at the sky full of stars. The Ontario legislature is told "the Dionne quintuplets have replaced Niagara Falls as Ontario's chief tourist attraction. Tourists now merely give the famous falls a passing glance, and hurry on to see the quintuplets."

THE SHAH OF PERSIA took a violent interest in his "peacock throne," all covered with jewels, but would not go to see the Derby run, "because he knew one horse could run faster than another, and he did not care which one it was."

Millions read the comics daily that never read Shakespeare. THE ENGLISH bet on anything; that it will rain on such a day, the big English insurance concern, Lloyds, will insure you against rain. It will insure you against the death of the king or the birth of twins. English brokers on the Indian stock exchange were betting 100 to 1 against the success of the Mt. Everest climbers, and made the odds 300 to 1 when a monsoon began screaming over the Himalayas.

THE BRITISH Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain, all dressed in his morning coat and striped trousers, jumped into the Hyde Park lake to pull out a little four-year-old girl, vaulting the railing without a second's hesitation, or thought of his official dignity. He called no bobby.

He and other Britishers are now planning to rescue the feeble little League of Nations from the Ethiopian muddle, by forgetting all about sanctions, stopping that non-sensical effort to uphold Haile Selassie in the slave-trading business, and the business of cutting the horns from recalcitrant debtors and other pleasing occupations.

England's statesmen, you may be surprised to hear, have decided that Mussolini is "in earnest." They believe that he really would pull out of the League of Nations and mobilize several million men, to say nothing of two or three thousand airplanes, if England and the league continued their efforts to starve out Italy with sanctions.

You would expect statesmen as intelligent as the English to know that Mussolini was "in earnest" the first time they ever saw his photograph with the chin sticking out.

WHAT IS an "Aryan" human being? German's government officially decides that all Turks are Aryans, whereas Egyptians are not Aryans, because they have "never colonized Europe."

If colonizing Europe is the test, then surely member of the Jewish race might well call themselves Aryans if they chose.

They were colonizing many parts of Europe and carrying on business in them before the Germanic races ever came out of their forests.

"SETTLING DAY" comes today. European nations that borrowed ten thousand million dollars from Uncle Sam ought to be settling in (Continued on Page Five)

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:30; sun rises tomorrow 4:30.

A clothing expert reports that women can dress more cheaply today than at any time in history. For all they wear, their clothes shouldn't cost them very much at all. Maybe that's the reason a woman always buys twice as many clothes as she needs.

"Better late than never" is an excellent proverb, the only trouble being that everyone believes in it too, except your boss.

A suspect, being grilled for shooting a policeman, said: "I wouldn't hurt a dog, let alone a cop." The police couldn't get sore about that—they finished runners up.

If you tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the heavens, or that the moon is 250,000 miles away, he will swallow it without questions. But, if you show him a seat in the park, on which is a sign reading "Wet Paint," he has to touch it with his fingers to see if the sign is telling the truth.

Verily—mortals are funny.

Industrial strength can decide a war, an observer opines. Good, if we have another war, we can call on our three big generals—General Electric, General Motors and General Foods.

It probably makes Haile Selassie pretty sore to think that he had to lose his country and his throne to make the front pages, while all Congressmen Zioncheck had to do was to deliver some empty beer bottles.

Charity isn't the only thing that covers a multitude of sins. It is equally true of a charming personality.

Don't laugh at those political prophets, who in 1933, said the Republican party was dead. There were others who, you'll remember, said in 1928 that the Democratic party was dead. It would look as though the Republican party has become very much alive in the last few days.

A young reporter on a paper in a nearby city was sent to a church to "cover" a wedding of two prominent socialites of the city. The wedding had been set for high noon, but by two o'clock the reporter hadn't returned to the office and the editor was beginning to fume.

Along about 2:30, past the deadline for that day's edition, the cub entered the office as nonchalant as you please. The editor turned on him with fire in his eye.

"And where, my brilliant news-hound, have you been?" he inquired caustically.

"Oh," replied the young reporter calmly. "I stopped at the police station to see if there was anything doing."

"But the wedding, the wedding, what in thunder about that?" sputtered the editor.

"There wasn't any. The bride was there and everything was all set, but for some reason the bridegroom didn't show up. So there wasn't any story to get."

(This is why you will find most editors believe in justifiable homicide.)

The Republicans are hoping that a great many Democrats will fall and have a "Happy Landon."

SOMEBODY'S DOING IT!

At the end of the second round in a boxing bout, the "Betting Kid" staggered to his corner badly bruised by his opponent's blows. The "Kid's" optimistic manager leaned over the ropes while the boxer was resting and shouted in his ear: "Keep it up, Kid! He hasn't laid a glove on you yet."

The manager repeated the cheerful advice at the end of the third and fourth rounds although the youthful fighter looked worse after each encounter.

When the bell sounded the end of the fifth round, the boxer had to be helped to his corner. He looked wearily at his manager as he mumbled: "Don't tell me. I know he ain't laid a glove on me, but you better have someone watch the referee because someone in that ring is giving me an awful beating."

The higher one climbs, the harder the earth feels, if you have to come down in a hurry. That is one reason why one should climb slowly.

There is no price tag on sleep, nor yet a tax, but the way some folks avoid it, one would think sleep is the most expensive commodity in the world.

The anti-prohibitions were right when they said the old-fashioned saloon would not come back. None of the new bars—which are on every downtown corner—contains a cuspidor.

Some beauty writers insist that you can tell a great deal about a woman just by watching her hands. But a French shoe expert has gone the pulchritude dealers one better by asserting that it is easier to determine a woman's character by studying her feet.

When you see a woman sit down and plant her feet close together in front of her, you may be sure that she is afraid everyone is staring at her, and that she is inclined to nervousness.

But, if you can detect confidence in the action of a woman in placing her feet, either in walking or in resting them in front of her when she sits down, you have an indication that she is confident of her appeal to others.

He doesn't say what it means when you trip and fall down, or if your heel comes off.

It's a queer world in which the most kind-hearted of women take pride in the feathers on their hats and the fur around their shoulders.

Why is it that most people who try to be the "life of the party" have such a deadly sense of humor?

The way to get $100 from a prominent citizen for a good cause is to tell him that you have him down for $500.

THAT'S JUST IT

"You can have the job as cashier—wages are $175 per month."

"You can't go far on that, sir."

"I don't want a cashier to go far."

An Ohio woman has a hen's egg which she has preserved for 50 years. It is probably still going strong.

A London scientist says the human race will be entirely bald within another thousand years. This may be just another hair-raising rumor, but will please those fellows

The flivver plane is almost upon us, says a news dispatch. Gosh, we hope they honk before they hit us.

Since we are now in the midst of political conventions and campaigns you may appreciate the swell remark by H. Ramsbotham secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture in the British Parliament. "Pigs and politicians," says Mr. Ramsbotham, "have something in common, for neither is appreciated until after death."

We know of an old lady in town here who lives in constant dread that she is suffering from some disease or is about to catch a new one.

The other day, a neighbor dropped in for a chat with her. The conversation finally turned to world affairs.

"Well," said the neighbor, "I see Mussolini's finally got Addis Ababa." "Is that so?" said the old lady. "I think it's good for him—the way he stands and talks before crowds without a hat on."

Maybe the reason most women lie about their age is because if they told the truth, the other women wouldn't believe them anyhow.

Mountain climbing is increasing rapidly in popularity. Ah, nearing its peak, so to speak.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Several years ago, I was secretly married and divorced. I never used my husband's name. I now plan to remarry my divorced husband. Here is my problem: Several people know of my previous marriage but the majority of my acquaintances have no knowledge of it. Would it be perfectly proper for my parents to send out formal, engraved announcements? Also, may I tell my friends in advance for they may wish to give parties for me?

MARGERIE.

Answer: The wedding of a divorcee must, of course, be simple but her parents may, with good taste, send out both invitations and announcements. However, your case is vastly different, for despite the fact that you have never used your husband's name, it is, technically, your correct name. And how can your parents "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" have the honor to announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. John Anthony Jones or Mrs. Smith Jones) to Mr. John Anthony Jones? That would sound absurd!

It would be decidedly in better taste for you to remarry without such fanfare.

Tell your friends of your forthcoming marriage and invite them verbally or by written note to the ceremony and the reception. Better still—"elope" with your former husband and let your family afterward spread the news by word of mouth.

Malvina Hoffman (Grimson), b. 1887, sculptor.

Today's Yesterdays—June 15, 1215—John Plantagenet, 49, king of England, signed against his will the Magna Charta (Great Charter) at Runnymede, near Windsor, and laid the foundation of personal liberty and civil rights in the western world and began modern constitutional government. (It passed into American laws as a fundamental.)

Nobles forced the king to grant the common people the sole right to make tax laws, trial by jury and protection of property rights by due process of law.

June 15, 1844—Patent No. 3633 was issued to Charles Goodyear, 44, on the process of vulcanizing rubber, two days less than seven years after he had obtained the first rubber patent of importance—on a method of destroying the adhesive properties of rubber by application of nitric acid with copper. Until Goodyear's time, rubber goods melted in summer's heat or stuck to whatever they touched. He lived to see rubber have 600 uses, but he died in debt.

June 15, 1869—John Wesley Hyatt, 32, obtained a patent upon celluloid, the product of his method of dissolving Proxylene under pressure. It was one of 200 inventions which he began devising in his teens, after only a fragmentary formal education. Others: composition ballpoint pens, school slates.

June 15 Among State Histories: 100 Years ago today—Arkansas was admitted to the Union, the 25th state. . . . 100 years ago today—Act enabling Michigan territory to be formed passed by congress. . . . 1846—Great Britain ceded Oregon to the U. S. by treaty which settled the northwest boundary and averted a threatened war. . . . 1904—1200 persons, mostly women and children, were killed when S. S. General Slocum burned in East river, New York, while on church excursion. . . . 1919—John Alcock and Arthur Whittton-Brown completed the first nonstop transatlantic flight in 16 hours.

It's True—M. S. Manning reproves us: "I have read your column with intense interest and have been really astonished never to see the name of Ingersoll, the world's most talked of man in the last quarter of the 19th century. I wonder if the press is so afraid as to discriminate? . . . He was the mightiest intellect, most eloquent speaker, and greatest orator the world has ever produced."

On August 13, 1933, we mentioned the 102nd anniversary of Ingersoll's birth. He doesn't deserve the rating Mr. Manning gives him. Ingersoll was a Billy Sunday of the opposition.

"The pike and the muskellunge species of fish shed their teeth in summer," says J. B. Sharpe, who may start another argument.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THOSE BILLIONS

Every time Congress gets to tinkering with $1,000,000,000 or more, one is inclined to get his pencil and paper to gain a better understanding of what a billion means.

It doesn't help much to say that a billion is one thousand millions, for one then asks, what's a million? A writer in a livestock publication has figured it. He says that a man who earns $1,000 a year would earn a million in 1,000 years if he stuck at it that long, which is to say that any man who has a million also has a rabbit's foot. At the same rate he would have to earn $1,000 a year for one million years to get his billion.

If a cattle feeder should feed 100 steers each year and make a profit of $10 on every steer, his profits would reach $1,000,000,000 at the end of the one millionth year.

Earning pin money at the rate of $2 per week by making butter, Ma would pile up $1,000,000,000 at the end of 9,615,385 years, if she didn't spend any of it.

How long does it take Congress to raise $1,000,000,000? Long enough for 435 Congressmen and 96 Senators to vote "aye." It's easier to vote a billion of the other people's money than to churn butter for 9,000,000 years.

OTHER MEN WEAR SILK HATS Last evening sitting in the den

"She put the question to me flat: 'Why won't you be like other men and get yourself a high silk hat?'"

"I've many reasons good," I said. And looked across my book and grinned.

"It's hard to keep upon the head a silk hat in a heavy wind."

"The topper is the proper hat. To wear at weddings," she replied.

"Oh, I have always managed that! I leave the old brown felt outside."

"But other women's husbands try to look like something now and then."

Surely, my dear, you won't deny. Silk hats look well on other men."

For thirty years, be it confessed, We argued out this question. Still She's never seen me smartly dressed And now I'm sure she never will.

Asks Permit To Connect Sewer To System In City

Territory In Neshannock Township Adjacent To City Line Asks Permit

James Gillfillan of Neshannock township appeared before city council at their meeting in city hall and stated that a proposal is under way whereby 3 1/2 miles of sanitary sewer will be laid in the vicinity of the city and Neshannock township lines. He asked permission of the city to permit a connection of this system with the city system.

He said that probably 300 homes would be connected to the proposed sewer. The property owners would pay to the city $7.80, a year, for each connection and the township would charge the property-owners about $10.00 for a maintenance fund. The system would be installed with WPA labor and remain the township's sewer.

Gillfillan added that the section referred to is improving daily. He said the section has gas, water, electric light and that the Glenmore school is being remodelled in such a manner as to make it practically new. Gillfillan also said that the highway department is building a new garage in the township.

He forecast that the time may come when the township will ask to be admitted as part of the city of New Castle.

The request for permission to connect with the sewer system of the city was referred to the city solicitor and city engineer for investigation and report.

New Castle Epworth League leaders will play prominent roles in the evening program, among them Peter Grille, chairman of the night's nominating committee, and Miss Ida Rodgers, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Private Industry Takes 1686 From County Aid Rolls

Encouraging gains in employment by private industry and a resultant drop in WPA and relief figures are reported today by J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, Works Progress Administration.

Since March 16, 1686 workers in Lawrence county have left the WPA or relief rolls and gone back to private industry, J. Downie's report shows. This is the largest gain in the district, Beaver showing 1012, Mercer 1452 and Butler 1008.

As of June 8, the number of persons in the district dependent upon either the WPA or the SERB had dropped from 107,251 to 85,381. At the present time there are 11,780 workers on the WPA rolls, which is slightly under the quota of 12,400 permitted for the district.

Pastor Honored On Anniversary Of Ordination
Rev. A. M. Stump, St. Paul's Lutheran, Ordained To Ministry 25 Years Ago

The 25th anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. A. M. Stump, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, was observed Sunday morning in a special combination service observing Children's Day and the anniversary.

Instead of the usual program of Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., English service at 10:40 a. m., and a German service at 11:40, all were combined into one service. One of the special features of the program was the participation of three divinity students from the congregation. Two of these, Walter Hompel and Michael Golden, will be seniors in Mt. Airy and Gettysburg Lutheran seminaries respectively, next fall, and the third, John P. Stump, son of the pastor, will be a senior in Muhlenberg College in the fall and will ultimately attend Mt. Airy.

Pastor Stump was ordained in Grace Lutheran church at Lancaster, Pa., on June 12, 1911, by the

My New York

By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association
NEW YORK, June 15.—The sad lack of spectacular characters along the boulevards where bulbs blink is making chatter writers prematurely gray. What we wouldn't give for a Daddy Browning, a Harry K. Thaw, a Phil Plant or even a Judge Crater or a Diamond Jim Brady!

My private suspicion is that Diamond Jim Brady was a dull and pompous fellow, but he was in the colorful tradition. He had the right kind of publicity. He would, at the moment, do very nicely. Tommy Manville appears to have retired to his rustic acres with a couple of cases of Poi Roger 1911 and John Jacob Astor III seems on the road to domestication and withdrawal even from the mild headlines he has in the past achieved.

The other night when H. H. Rogers, Jr., emerged from the French Casino and swapped some badinage with the drivers in the hack line, all the columnar babblers reached for their notebooks. But there was really no story. Thaw would have commanded the whole fleet and ridden around the Island tossing confetti and champagne corks at citizens. Even Jimmy Walker in his heyday was good for a paragraph every time he stepped out.

Instead, what sort of "personalities" must the reporters of flick-flack observe in order to fill up their daily stints? There are occasional movie stars to be spotted at the Versailles, at "21" at El Morocco and classy joints of that caliber. These now and then cut up mildly and if you are willing to suffer you can hang around them and get the newest bulletins on their complicated and depressing love affairs. But the old-fashioned, 24-carat, dyed-in-the-wool playboy is an extinct species. I do not complain. He was, in any quantity, a phenomenon to get on the nerves. His antics became so standardized, toward the end of his reign that you knew in advance whether he would buy out the first ten rows of a musical for a single performance, pass out diamond rings to a dinner party of chorus cuties or try on the ladies' hats. Heaven knows I wrote about him for enough years to cry "enough."

I do not complain, but in 1936 substitutes for the genius playboy are none the less pale and unconvincing gentlemen. There are the whoopsy young Pinks, who write for the dramatic, book review and movie sections of the papers, and for the "liberal" weeklies. They flock to all the cafe first nights at which free food and drink are dispensed. There are a few illustrators and even one or two veritable scions of wealth, but none of them is colorful enough to make the ghost of Boni de Castellane trouble about getting through a ouija board to look on.

All this is occasioned by the remark of a friend from one of the midland states whom I had in tow the other night. He wanted to have a playboy pointed out to him because he had never seen one in the flesh.

The best I could do was a journalist of sorts who inherited money and who haunts the night spots and caviar caravansers.

"That?" inquired my friend. "Why, he doesn't look like a playboy. He merely looks hungry. Hand him a T-bone steak and in twenty-four hours you couldn't tell him from an ordinary citizen!"

A SUGGESTION

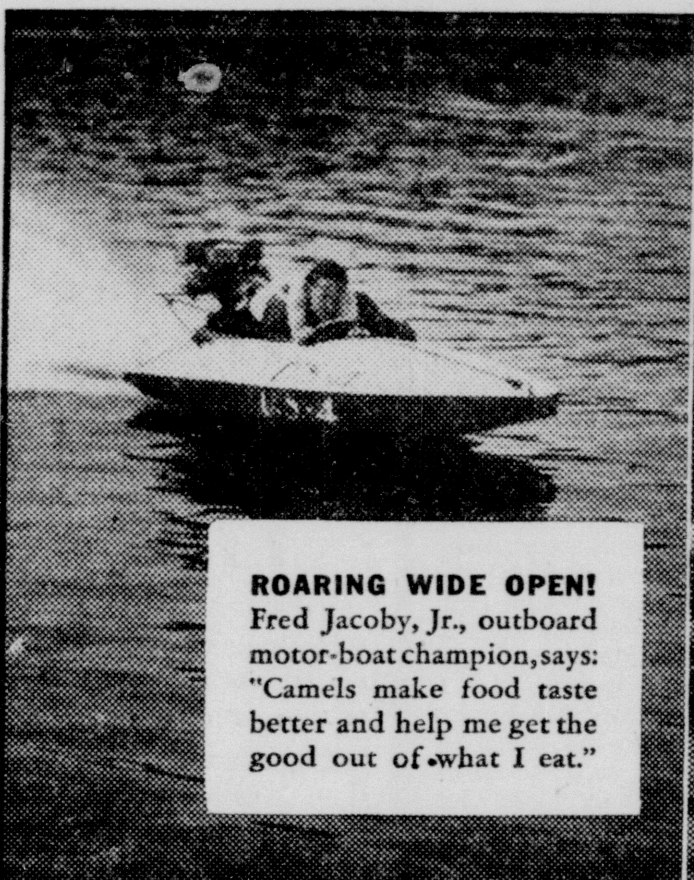

At mealtime, try Camels yourself and see why smokers say

"For Digestion's sake—smoke Camels"

WHEN THE ALARM RINGS, Fire-Chief Frank Gilliar forgets about food and rest till the last spark is out. Does he enjoy smoking? "You bet I do," he says—"Camels. Smoking Camels while I'm eating and after gives me a great feeling of cheer and contentment."

BEST-DRESSED GOLFER. Johnny Farrell was voted the best-dressed golfer at the National Open Championship matches for a number of years. He says: "A Camel puts me on the top of the world. Camels aid my digestion."

ROARING WIDE OPEN! Fred Jacoby, Jr., outboard motor-boat champion, says: "Camels make food taste better and help me get the good out of what I eat."

A CASHIER HAS TO BE fast, accurate, pleasant. Miss Travis Lander, shown at the ticket window, says: "I like to smoke at mealtime. Camels help my digestion."

The Presidential Room of the Mayflower Hotel Washington, D. C.

Beautifully gowned women... diplomats and statesmen... gather here, while the Mayflower kitchens give forth a stream of rare and tempting dishes. The famous maitre d'hôtel of the Mayflower—greeted as "Fred"—says: "Of course, our cosmopolitan clientele prefer Camels. They are a great favorite with our guests."

Science confirms the truth of the popular phrase "For Digestion's Sake... Smoke Camels"

Scientists have found that Camels promote well-being by stimulating the flow of the digestive fluids... alkaline digestive fluids... necessary for good digestion. Often fatigue, worry, excitement, nervousness—all interfere with this digestive flow. Camels restore and increase it, thus assisting digestion to proceed normally and healthfully.

With their finer, costlier tobaccos, Camels give mildness a new meaning. They do not get on your nerves or rasp your throat. Make Camels your smoke—for their cheery "lift"... for digestion's sake. Camels set you right.

Costlier Tobaccos!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners report that several hundred feet of the concrete highway, from a point where it ends at Edinburg, back toward New Castle, will be torn up in order that the road may be straightened to meet the new viaduct being constructed.

In the case of A. B. Stoner against Ralph Twenter, a petition for a rule on the defendant to take interrogatories, was presented in court. The suit is one growing out of a petition to open a judgment.

Plenty of daylight is being saved by the truck drivers who are at work on the Edinburg viaduct. The truckers, who are hauling shale from a limestone quarry near Hillsville, are working sixteen hours per day, beginning early in the morning and continuing as long as it is daylight.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received an invitation to be present at the sheriff's convention which is to be held in Erie on July 13-15. Erie County sheriff, Dell Darling, is in charge of the arrangements.

Gradual decreases in the number of foreclosures is shown in statistics received from the research division of the Federal Home Loan Bank by Register and Recorder William R. Hanna. The report covers 840 indentical communities, scattered over the United States. The number in April this year was 12,628 as compared to 16,732 in April of 1935.

Under the interstate law when a married woman dies without having made a will, her husband, children and relatives receive exactly the same as in the case of a married man. The only exception being that there is no $500 exemption allowed the husband, according to a local attorney. A "widow's exemption" entitles the widow or children to retain $500 of an estate regardless of any other claim against it. When an unmarried person dies without having made a will the parents, if living, receive the entire estate. The brothers and sisters receive, where the parents are not living, equal shares in the entire estate. Where there are no heirs or kin the commonwealth receives the entire estate.

George Hettenbaugh, Attorney Wilbur J. Baer and Alexander Main, viewers appointed on the West Pittsburgh road, have made a report to court recommending the vacation of sections, where changes were made when the road was recently improved.

Judge Rowley of Mercer county will be here on June 19 to sit with Judge James A. Chambers during argument court. The cases to be taken up for argument at this session are ones in which Judge W. Walter Braham was interested before he was elevated to the bench.

executor in the estate of the late Maria J. Book, Attorney William McElwee Jr., guardian of Eleanor J. McMillin, and the mother of Eleanor, now Mrs. Jean M. Morrow of Pittsburgh.

This is a case which has been in the courts for some time. Mrs. Book, during her lifetime agreed with James J. McMillin and Jean M. McMillin, now Mrs. Morrow, to provide for and educate their daughter, Eleanor J. McMillin. After Mrs. Book's death a question arose as to the responsibility of the estate for the contract made by Mrs. Book regarding Eleanor. Litigation which reached the supreme court followed, and an opinion was finally handed down fixing the amount which the estate should pay at $17,000.

Eleanor J. McMillin has been with her mother for some time who had been receiving $10 per week from the estate but the payments were stopped in June 1932. Under the terms of the settlement which has been made Mrs. Morrow is to be paid $2000 for services from June 1932 to July 1936. The guardian, William McElwee Jr., is to be paid $8000, before September 5, 1936, when the estate will be discharged from all further liability.

AROUND CITY HALL

Proclivities in city hall were very quiet during the past week, business during councilmanic sessions having been conspicuous by its almost total absence and only routine work was transacted by the officials at other periods. Mayor Charles E. McGrath spend several days at the Republican convention in Cleveland, during which time Finance Director J. Leon Fink acted as mayor. In police court hearings Fink followed the example of Mayor McGrath and sent several groups of prisoners to either the parks, dumps or woodpiles where they worked in lieu of paying a small fine for drunkenness.

Garbage movement during the past week was expedited considerably according to Safety Director J. Myron Rice. He said that complaints of unlifted garbage have been few and that the department is operating at a high rate of speed.

The police department now boasts of a trio of bluecoats who have seen action in the boxing ring. They are Tommy Jones, ex-lightweight, Jimmie Steiner, former featherweight and George Perotta who battled as a middleweight.

So far Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander has not had much trouble with vandals destroying water fountains. Plans have been made to give vandals a salty sentence should they break plumbing fixtures this summer.

ALL PLANS FOR EVENT COMPLETE

With the New Castle High School Alumni Association reunion and dance occurring on Friday evening of this week in The Cathedral, it was announced today by Mrs. Ethel Rantz Ferver, president of the association, that the dinner reservations would be closed on Wednesday.

In addition to notifying the chairman of the different classes whether they will attend or not, members are expected to purchase their tickets at one of the five places listed in order to avoid the last minute confusion which generally takes place at The Cathedral. This will enable out-of-town members to be accommodated there and will not delay the hour of the dinner.

The dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 and at the close of the dinner the members will assemble in the auditorium for the business session and a short program of entertainment.

Dancing will conclude the program of the evening and an orchestra of exceptional merit will furnish the music for the occasion.

Tickets should be secured before Wednesday evening at the following places: Hyde's drug store, Seventh Ward; Shaffer and Snyder's drug store, Long avenue; Gilmore's drug store, East Washington street; Love and Megown's, and The Work Basket, North Mill street.

Community To Share Reunion

Old Time Residents Of Volant
Will Return For Annual
Volant College Reunion

President A. Reid English of the Volant College Alumni association stated today that residents of the Volant community are taking greater interest in the Volant college reunion and home coming day for the community than ever before, and a great number of former students of the school and former residents of the town are expected back for the annual reunion Wednesday, June 24.

Because of the death of Dr. Asher A. Galbreath, founder of the college, and Dr. J. B. Bowman, dean, during the past year, and the memorials planned in their honor, the reunion this year holds a great amount of sentiment for former students and residents of the community.

Both the churches are cooperating in the plans and the event this year promises to be filled with interest for those attending.

Seventh Ward Garden Far Ahead Of Ordinary; Result Of Irrigation

Corn waist high, plants with green tomatoes—and a four acre truck farm which is weeks ahead of non-irrigated gardens. This may be seen at the Pollio place in South First street, Seventh Ward. A News reporter visited the truck farm and found that Mother Nature is being aided by an electric bed and a five horsepower motor.

Last February Alessandro Pollio planted his seed in a bed beneath which electric cables heated the ground. The sides of the bed were covered with glass. As a result he had thousands of all kinds of plants which he transplanted into "cold beds" and on May 18 were again transplanted in the truck farm.

Whenever necessary Mr. Pollio starts the motor which draws 120 gallons of water a minute from the Mahoning river. The water flows through pipes to different sections of the four acres and travels through ditches to all sections of the plot.

The result is now seen. Cabbage forming heads, tomatoes as large as peaches, okra and other vegetables. Early in June Pollio claims the tomatoes will be ripe. Lettuce now is ready to eat and he gives credit to the electrical bed, the electrically driven motor and the irrigation.

The water is placed on the soil only when needed. Usually Pollio keeps the motor running 10 hours which shows that 72,000 gallons of water is spread around the four acre place in that time.

Girl Scout Troop Six Annual Court Of Awards

The Girl Scouts of troop No. 6 held their annual court of awards at the home of Miss Patty Preston, a member of the troop. The meeting was in the form of a tea, with the members of the troop committee and Mrs. W. H. Hanger as guests of honor. The entertainment was opened with a play by the Hiawatha patrol, after which Leah Davis gave a humorous reading, "Cleopatra".

A horseshoe formation was formed, and Miss Elizabeth Hope presented second class badges to Dorothy Connor, Betty Raney, Betty Markley, Betty Robinson, Elsie Mundy and Eleanor Wallace. Miss Rebecca Sward then gave out the other badges and awards. The Girl Scout promise and laws were given by the troop, and Mrs. Hanger presented Mary Louise Meehan with her first class badge, and an identification bracelet as a special award for compiling the best notebook for the rockfinder badge. After group singing, conducted by Miss Elizabeth Reis, tea and cookies were served. Miss Elizabeth Reis and Miss Rebecca Sward poured. WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Hamilton Is Given Credit

Has Virtually Taken Charge Of Republican Party Following Nomination

IS FIRST CLASS PUBLICITY MAN

Central Press Bureau at G. O. P. Convention.

By CHARLES P. STEWART

CLEVELAND, June 15—With the nomination of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidency on the G. O. P. ticket, John D. M. Hamilton virtually took charge of the Republican party.

Hamilton it was who originally thought of Landon for the presidential race. It wasn't Landon's idea at the outset. Hamilton put it into his head. Then he proceeded to manage the governor's pre-convention campaign, personally directed all Landon's activities in Cleveland and now he assumes the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

As I heard one of the Cleveland delegates express it, "He was a child reaching for the moon, and the child got it."

HAMILTON IS SMART

Hamilton is not exactly a child, however, but a very experienced Kansas politician.

He became a national celebrity pretty suddenly, but the Sunflower State already was well acquainted with him and he was prominent enough to have been general counsel for the Republican national committee, a position from which he retired to promote the Landon campaign for the Cleveland nomination. It was his campaign more than it was Landon's.

He's a smart man. He put on so fine a line of ballyhoo in Cleveland that there scarcely appeared to be any candidate but his own in the running. He also is an able negotiator, or he wouldn't have been so successful in winning without antagonizing opposition aspirants.

ANALYZING LONDON

I asked him how it chanced to occur to him that he could put the then comparatively unknown Kansas governor "across" presidentially.

Well, he said, in the first place the governor was not comparatively unknown to him; he knew all about him. He knew that he virtually was made to order for the White House under present conditions—just the right temperament, mental qualifications and experience. Besides, he was one of only four Republicans who were elected to governorship in 1932, and of those he was the only one re-elected in 1934. Hamilton interprets his candidate's statewide electoral record as indicating that he is a vote-getter among folk who are acquainted with him as in Kansas. As he saw it, it only remained to get the whole country acquainted with him. That's what he's been attending to and will continue to attend to as his campaign manager.

KNOWS PUBLICITY

Hamilton is a first-class publicity man, too.

He is approachable, likable and he has the news sense well developed. (The Republican national committee has needed better publicity for a long time. It has been terrible.)

The new committee chairman was born at Fort Madison, Ia. He studied law and has practiced at Topeka. He has served in the Kansas legislature, was defeated once for governor and, as previously remarked, was the national committee's general counsel. Oh, he's no novice at the game of politics.

His wife was Laura Hall, daughter of the head of a large Topeka printing establishment. They have a son and a daughter.

NEW G. O. P. PARTY?

There are Republicans who suspect that Hamilton has had a new party in the making at Cleveland.

Or perhaps it would be more nearly correct to say that the Republican party has been in process of being made over. The platform which the convention adopted was quite different in various details from what one would have expected in an old-fashioned platform. And all the Cleveland oratory bespoke a desire to win over to Republicanism large numbers of anti-New Deal Democrats. If the plan succeeds, the presence in its midst of all these former Democrats will be calculated considerably to modify Republicanism.

A politician like Representative Bertrand H. Snell, who presided over the convention, certainly doesn't want Republicanism modified. Snell is, by inclination, an ultra-standpater. Nevertheless, the force of circumstances was too much for him. He had to acquiesce in much that must have gained him decidedly.

Hamilton had a deal to do, in Landon's interest, with shaping the circumstances.

Girl Scout Leaders At Uniontown Camp

Three Leave For Camp Riamo; Others Train At Camp Wesco And Camp Redwing

Three of the New Castle Girl Scout leaders, Miss Mary Virginia Armstrong, Miss Mae Gilchrist and Miss Donna Jean Beall, have gone for unit leader training at Camp Riamo, near Uniontown, Pa., in preparation for supervising activities at Camp Phillips, Lawrence county, and the Altoona Girl Scout camp later in the summer.

Miss Armstrong will lead the "middle" unit and Miss Gilchrist the "older girl" unit at Camp Phillips in August, while Miss Beall will be a counselor at the Altoona camp for the month of July and from there will go to Camp Barree for August.

In May, Miss Julia Marshall and Miss Beatrice Connor went to Camp Wesco near Ligonier to the pre-conference training camp and studied water front activities under the National swimming director, Miss Olive McCormick. Miss Marshall will be in charge of the waterfront at Camp Phillips August 9-23. Miss Connor will assist her. Miss Beall took up handcraft at this camp, also.

A week ago Mrs. E. W. Guy, who will head the youngest unit at Camp Phillips, and Miss Rebecca Sword, who will teach archery at Day Camp, (Cascade Park), went to a camp institute at Camp Redwing, the Allegheny Girl Scout camp. This was an institute where the social agencies of Pittsburgh gathered each year for training.

Camp Phillips opens August 9 this year and already one of the units is completely filled, that of the Pioneer. Registrations are coming in earlier and faster this year than ever before, which is encouraging to the camp committee. This year all units will be able to take part in the archery program and there will again be boating for the older girls.

Mrs. Harrison Bradley of Ellwood City, will again have charge of the Gypsies, "Lindy" (Audrielle Lynch) will arrive about August 1.

The girls are urged to register early so there will be no disappointed ones.

TROPICAL STORM STRIKES SOUTHERN FLORIDA

Minor Damage Only Reported

Some Damage Done By Flood Waters In Bonita Springs

NAPLES CUT OFF FROM TELEPHONE

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, La., June 15.—The tropical disturbance that struck the west coast of Florida early today is attended by "heavy but apparently destructive winds," the weather bureau said in the advisory issued here early this morning.

The weather bureau said the storm will cross southern Florida to the east coast "probably without damaging winds."

Caution was advised small vessels of the east Florida coast during the next 24 hours.

Storm Roars Inland.
Port Myers, Fla., June 15.—A tropical storm—the first of the 1936 season—roared inland from the Gulf of Mexico between Bonita Springs and Naples, south of here, shortly after 2 a. m. today, but a preliminary survey of the storm area indicated no lives were lost and only minor property damaged resulted.

Although it was impossible to contact Naples by telephone from this city, local authorities got in touch with Everglades, farther down the coast, and were informed that everything was reported safe at Naples.

Flood Causes Damage.
Principal damage at Bonita Springs was caused by flood waters which preceded the arrival of the tropical disturbance. Swollen by heavy rains over the past few days, the Imperial river backed up behind the coastline railroad embankment, temporarily trapping approximately 400 persons.

Water stood several feet deep in the flooded areas, and residents of the section were forced to take refuge in the second stories of their homes. The water subsided rapidly, however, after workmen had opened a drawbridge in the railroad embankment, and by daylight most of the water was reported to have drained away.

HOT AND WILTED? TRY TEA!

AMERICAN ENGINEERS WHO HAVE TO WORK IN THE EXTREME TROPICS WHERE TEMPERATURES REACH 120° IN THE SHADE AND HUMIDITY BECOMES STIFLING HAVE FOUND THAT TEA IS THE WAY TO STAY COOL

PERHAPS IT DOESN'T GET AS HOT HERE AS IT DOES IN THE TROPICS, BUT WE NEED SOMETHING REALLY COOLING TOO. THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TEA TO MAKE YOU FORGET THE HEAT. I DRINK IT CONTINUALLY ALL SUMMER—8 OR 10 GLASSES A DAY

Doctors have proved that tea actually lowers your body temperature. That cooling effect is not a delusion. Your body becomes literally cooler. The next time you want a really cooling drink... not just a "cold drink"... turn to tea. It raises your vitality. It quenches your thirst. And it helps combat the hottest day and the worst humidity.

Cooling, vitalizing Tea comes from INDIA, CEYLON, and JAVA-SUMATRA. Buy a good brand of Orange Pekoe, and look for any of these names or this map on package or in advertising.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TECHNIQUE OF READING

For many years I have been urging parents to read to their children, beginning with the baby under two. In 1925 I wrote my first book, "The Learner and His Attitude." In it I reported the way we read to our first two children, and presented objective data showing the good effect on these children from the reading to them.

A few years after this book appeared I received a letter from a stranger to me, Bess W. Follansbee (Mrs. F. S.), of Pittsburgh, telling me she liked the book and had been reading aloud to her little girl who is now 15. Since that time Mrs. Follansbee has been carefully studying the effect of reading to young children and the books best suited to this purpose, and has published several magazine articles. She has done considerable speaking in co-operation with the public library, P. T. A. and various clubs of Pittsburgh and vicinity, and has frequently been on the air. She speaks well and knows her "stuff."

As director of the First Institute for Mothers at the Youngstown, O., public library last March, I invited Mrs. Follansbee to tell in a personal way at the institute some of her experiences in reading to her daughter and how she selected the books. Here are a few of her excellent remarks:

MAKES STUDY OF READING

"I attempted to make a study of my little girl's reading according to my own ideas, as I was a principal of a graded school before I married. I soon discovered that my work was both unorganized and unauthentic, therefore, I placed myself under the direction of the librarian of the boys' and girls' room of the Carnegie library in our city.

"One of the favorite books I used with my little girl was 'Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes Set to Music,' by J. W. Elliott. I gave her this book when she was one year and nine months old, and when she was two years old she would turn to the picture at the top of the page and sing the song.

"At the age of two she would use the ordinary paper pages in a book without tearing them. When she was two I gave her a copy of 'Sun Bonnet Babies' Book,' by Eulalie Ossodoo Grover. She took this book to bed with her, to the park with her nurse, and in fact was never separated from it for a long time.

"When my little girl was four years old her little brother joined our family and later our reading circle. We truly have a reading foursome in our home. In all our reading with our two children, we have kept uppermost in our minds the fact that grownups dream while asleep, but children dream while awake."

Nations Again Default Debts

Finland Is Only Nation Ready To Lay War Debt Money On Line Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Europe's pay day to Uncle Sam today found the amount on which the European debtor nations are in default to this government swelling to more than one billion dollars.

It was another virtual payless day for Uncle Sam as Great Britain, France and the other European debtors, with the sole exception of Finland, defaulted outright. The debtors were billed by the state department for a total of $1,160,122,766.65, which included the $193,789,042.41 June 15th installments and past unpaid balances and defaults.

Of this amount, only $164,315.50 was received. That represented the payment of Finland, which continued to meet its obligations in full. The Finnish payment was made at the Federal Reserve Bank in New York City.

AIRMAIL TO WEST NOW GOES FASTER

Post Office Here Announces Swifter Dispatch Under New Schedule

A new airmail service that speeds up delivery of mid-western and Pacific coast service mail by several hours has been inaugurated at the New Castle post office, Postmaster Richard A. Steen announced.

The airmail pouch is closed here at 8 p. m., Steen said. Officials stressed that the airmail must be deposited in the proper "airmail" drop. A fast train takes the pouch to Cleveland where it is rushed from the depot to a plane at the municipal airport.

Letters in the drop at 8 reach Toledo, O., the next day at 2:02 a. m., Chicago, at 3:30 a. m., Omaha, Neb., at 6:52 a. m., Salt Lake City, at 12:24 p. m., and San Francisco at 4:11 p. m.

"Air mail out of New Castle has increased considerably," Postmaster Steen commented as he announced the faster schedule which he feels will make it all the more popular.

Louis Aroused By Insinuations That He Can't "Take" It

"I'm Going To Flatten Schmeling Just As Soon As Possible," Says Louis

Will Not Carry German Boy Along Just For Sake Of Moving Pictures

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 15.—"Pictures or no pictures I'm going to flatten him just as quick as I can."

This is Joe Louis' reply to the insinuation that he might "carry" Max Schmeling along for a few rounds to increase the value of the moving pictures of which he will get 30 percent.

It is one of two insinuations which seem able to stir Joe from his almost inhuman placidity, the other being the suggestion that he might not be able to "take" it.

Joe Gets Mad
The writer put both suggestions squarely up to Joe while trainer Jack Blackburn was bandaging his hands before facing on the gloves for his semi-final workout.

"Let me tell you something," said Joe indignantly, "I ain't never carried nobody and I ain't going to start now."

"I got plenty of money now and I'll get more for this fight. If the pictures make me some more, that's fine. But if they don't, it don't make no difference. If I can stop him with one punch, I'm going to."

No Personal Feelings
This seemed to bode no good for Max. He didn't, by any chance, have any personal feelings against Max did he?

"Oh, no, I never have no feelings about any of the boys I fight but I was a little peeved about some of those remarks Max Baer made before our fight, and that Natie Brown sorta got my goat sticking his head outside the ropes instead of fighting like he oughta."

Then he never carried any grudge into the ring?

"Nope, why should I? It's just business with me."

Well, supposing Max should knock him down, what then?

Took Punishment

"All right," said Joe. "What of it? I could get up, couldn't I? I was flattened seven times in my first amateur fight and I got up every time. Where do they get that stuff that I can't take it?"

"Let me tell you something else. An amateur has to take more beating than a pro because he don't know anything. I bet I took more when I was boxing for medals than I ever will have to take fighting for dough. I took ten times more punishment in my first amateur fight than I took in all my professional fights put together."

Firemen Defeat Zelienople 8-3

Alexander Limits Zelienople Merchants To Five Hits At Lee Avenue

BATTLE RYANTOWN AGAIN TONIGHT

Sixth Ward Firemen hung up victory number eight yesterday afternoon at Lee avenue field by defeating the strong Zelienople Merchants by a score of 8-3. Manager Zeigler, of the Firemen, called upon his fireball pitcher, Art "Smoky" Alexander, to hurl against the lads from the valley and he came through in fine fashion, limiting them to five scattered hits which counted for three runs. Alexander was never in danger throughout the game and kept the hits well scattered except in the fourth inning when they bunched three hits and scored their two runs. Alexander fanned seven of his opponents.

For Zelienople, S. Lucas was selected to hurl against the Firemen and was found for a total of 14 hits and eight runs. The Firemen got to Lucas in the second inning when they pounded out enough hits to score five runs. From then on, the Firemen had easy sailing throughout the remainder of the nine inning contest.

For the Firemen, the hitting of "Peck" Huston with a triple and a single; R. Coulter with a double and single; P. Coulter with three singles, and A. Gall, was outstanding.

A large crowd of fans witnessed the game. Tonight the Firemen will travel to Ryantown to play another in a series of games which will start at 6 o'clock.

Hal Schumacher Stops Pirates

Defeats Pittsburgh 8 To 0, Cardinals Take Over Phils

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 15.—Those "rip-sportin'" St. Louis Cardinals aren't a bit particular how they win ball games. If it's good pitching and tight, inside baseball that's needed, the Cards provide it. And if it's wide-open, slam-bang baseball that's necessary they'll come through with that too.

Yesterday they needed the knock-down and drag-out type of play to gain the decision over the Phillies. The score was 12-10. The Phils slapped Paul Dean, Heuser, Walker and Dizzy Dean for 14 hits, while the Cards were getting 16 safe blows off Johnson, Jorgens and Passeau. The Chicago Cubs continued their upward drive by winning their eleventh game in a row. They defeated the Boston Bees, 3 to 1, with Frank Demaree contributing two homers.

The hapless Brooklyn Dodgers were trounced, 5 to 1, by the Cincinnati Reds, the defeat being the twelfth for the flatbushers on their most disastrous western tour in many years.

Hal Schumacher held the Pittsburgh Pirates to 5 hits and the New York Giants chalked up a triumph after 5 consecutive defeats. The score was 8 to 0.

Only two games were played in the American League yesterday. The Philadelphia Athletics made it three out of four from the Cleveland Indians by winning a free-hitting contest, 8 to 6. Johnson, Hale and Gleeson contributed home runs to the day's festivities.

Steady pitching in the pinches by Vernon Kennedy enabled the Chicago White Sox to defeat the Washington Senators by a score of 6 to 4.

Bonnetts Defeat Sharon Team 7-3

Bonnetts softball team of the city league handed the Felix Barbers of Sharon a 7 to 3 defeat yesterday at Carnegie field, with Dwyer in fine form, allowing six scattered hits. The Bonnetts had four hits off of Novocol, but bunched them for runs.

"Gabby" DeCaprio with a homer was the feature hitter of the battle. DiMuccio and Richards also hit the ball hard.

Ryantown Ready For Battle With Firemen Tonight

Second Game Of Series At Ryantown Field At 6 O'Clock Tonight

Ryantown baseball is waiting and ready for the Sixth Ward Firemen team tonight at the Ryantown field at 6 o'clock. The Fire-Eaters took the first game of the series last week and the Ryantown boys are anxious to even up.

Manager Joe Samuels announced today that he would probably shove Tommy Strausbaugh into the box to face the Firemen. The Firemen will have a tough night looking at fireballs going through the heart of the plate if this Strausbaugh youngster is right.

Thornton To Pitch
Just who Manager Joe Ziegler will select to pitch tonight is not known, but with Alexander on the shelf having hurt yesterday, the choice will probably go to "Shorty" Thornton the lad who set the Ryantownians down on their ears at the Lee Avenue field.

In event of good weather tonight, the biggest crowd of the year is looked for at the Ryantown field. There is keen rivalry between these two teams. The Firemen have the edge, by taking one victory. Ryantown wants to win this game tonight worse than any other game the rest of the season.

BEWARE!

YOU NEED THIS BLOW-OUT PROTECTION . . . only Goodrich Silvertowns have the Life-Saver Golden Ply

THE yearly toll of injuries and deaths due to blow-outs runs into the thousands. And here's why. Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A tiny blister forms and grows bigger and BIGGER until, sooner or later, BANG! A blow-out!

Since the earliest days of the automobile, The B. F. Goodrich Company has made many outstanding contributions to motoring safety. But the Goodrich development that means the most to you as you're driving along at 40-50-60 miles an hour is the Life-Saver Golden Ply, found only in Goodrich Silvertown Tires. This amazing invention is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. By resisting this heat the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps heat blisters from forming. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.

Don't gamble! Life is too sweet to take chances on unsafe tires. Equip your car with a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns with Life-Saver Golden Ply blow-out protection. Remember they cost not a penny more than other standard tires.

FREE! A million more motorists pledged to safe driving is the Goodrich goal for 1936. Prove that you want accidents prevented. Join the Silvertown Safety League and receive free—a handsome emblem with red crystal reflector to protect you if your tail light fails. Come in today.

Here's Another Great Tire Value

Goodrich, of course, builds tires to meet every need and pocketbook. And this sturdy, low-priced Goodrich Commander Tire, certified by America's oldest tire manufacturer, is plenty of proof that you don't need to risk buying nameless "bargain-builts" just to save money. If you want real honest mileage and wear at a low first cost, don't miss this real opportunity to get Commander while prices are rock-bottom! Come in today.

Cardinals And Yankees Picked To Win Pennants

Red Sox And Chicago Cubs Are Second Choices Of Betting Commissioner

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 15.—With the pennant races one-third over, the New York Yankees today supplanted the Boston Red Sox as American League favorites at the shortening odds of 6 to 5, according to the revised book of Broadway Jack Doyle, commissioner who seldom has been wrong, and on most of those infrequent occasions quickly got right.

In his book, as it stands now, the world series will be a boisterous knock-down-and-drag-out between the throw-backs to the original "murders row" and the rampaging rashouse gang of St. Louis, which remains the National League choice at 8 to 5.

Di Maggio Helps
Joe (Little Bambino) Di Maggio, providing power lacking since the big Bam began to fade on quaking legs, and Lou Gehrig, in the midst of one of his best performances, are batting at a terrific clip seldom below .350 with opportune extra base blows, and most of the other Yanks have joined enthusiastically in the ball-powdering.

The aging Tony Lazzeri and sprightly Frankie Crosetti, who, with Di Maggio, are helping to make it a great year for the Italians, Red Rolfe and George Selkirk, all are above or near .300 and in there every day, while a couple of 300 hitters are on the bench and still another, catcher Bill Dickey, is in the hospital. He'll be back soon.

Yanks Get Powell
The acquisition yesterday of Jake Powell, Washington centerfielder in exchange for Ben Chapman, long a Yank regular, had nothing to do with the shift in odds favoring the Yanks, who obtained more hitting power in the current averages but gave up the best defensive center gardener in the league.

The batting, in the book, overcomes spotty Yankee pitching, and leaves the Red Sox second choice at 8 to 5, the injury harrassed Detroit Tigers a faint threat at 13 to 5 and Cleveland 3 to 1. Washington is 20 to 1, the Chicago White Sox, 30 to 1; St. Louis Browns, 50 to 1, and the Philadelphia Athletics 200 to 1.

Behind the Cards ranked at 8 to 5 in the National League, are the champion Chicago Cubs at 2 to 1, the New York Giants, 12 to 5, and the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 1. Brooklyn is 20 to 1, Cincinnati, 15 to 1; Philadelphia Phillies, 100 to 1, and the Boston Bees at 200 to 1, if anybody wants them.

Correct this sentence: "Dad gave us our home," said she, "but we appreciate it as much as though we had earned it."

Golfing Events On Local Links

Darby and Emil Mancine with a low net of 66, won the best ball, one-half combined handicap event. Darby and Mancine and Willie Grommes and Walt Vogan had low gross with 73.

Charter Refused In Opinion By Judge Chambers

Court Says Charter Rights Have Been Abused And Cites Four Recent Cases

In an opinion handed down by Judge James A. Chambers at court this morning a charter is refused the application for a charter Judge Chambers says that until the last few months the court has been quite liberal in the granting of charters. However, recent events have brought up the question of the property of granting such charters.

Continuing Judge Chambers calls attention to the fact that recently corporate rights had been abused. District Attorney Mont L. Ailey had found it necessary to bring quo warranto proceedings against four clubs. The charters of three of these clubs had been revoked and one is still pending.

"We therefore feel it our duty" said the court "to scrutinize applications for charters more closely, and to refuse same unless we are convinced that the granting would not be injurious to the community."

"In this case all of the incorporators said the purpose of the charter was to establish a reading and club room. An initiation fee of $1 was to be charged and dues of 50 cents per month. It was estimated that the maximum membership would be 50. We do not see how it would be possible to maintain a club room, pay rent and have anybody in charge with dues so low.

The applicants also stated that it was not their present intention to apply for a liquor license or permit gambling. We are unable to see how the club expects to function unless money is secured from some source other than dues.

"While the intention of the present incorporators may be good, yet we feel that by granting them a charter, when they have no present assets and no prospects of adequate income, we would be inviting them to undertake to procure funds in some way that might not be for the best interests of the community."

The court cited a supreme court opinion in which it was held that a charter may be refused if the proposed incorporators do not have prospects of sufficient income to maintain a club in accordance with the objects set out in the charter.
